NOTE: This information represents, on average, the age by which most children will accomplish the listed milestones. Children do not typically master all items until they reach the upper end of that age range. Just because your child has not yet accomplished a skill within an age range does not mean they have a disorder. However, if you have answered ‘no’ to the majority of items within an age range, or continue to have concerns, it is recommended that a thorough assessment be completed. For more information about an evaluation of your child, please contact The Bell Center’s Family Services Director, Anna Claire Bailey, at 879-3417 or abailey@thebellcenter.org.
